On Monday, April 19, the stars came out to celebrate the 11th Anniversary of WET Productions, a non-profit dedicated to empowering women in the arts and media, at their Love Gala. Love was a one night only benefit performance of short plays on love, written by some of the hottest women writers in film, theater and TV and performed by celebrated actors. WET's notorious annual Gala followed the presentation. BroadwayWorld was there for the celebration.

Produced by founders Sasha Eden and Victoria Pettibone, and directed by Abby Epstein (The Business of Being Born), the evening featured performances by Emmanuelle Chriqui, Rosemarie Dewitt, Ron Livingston, Michael Stuhlbarg, Chris Messina, Mamie Gummer, Zachary Quinto, Jennifer Westfeldt, Carla Gugino and more.

The evening featured the inaugural We Empower Together award, presented by Nora Ephron (Julie and Julia, Sleepless in Seattle, When Harry Met Sally) to honoree Lynda Obst (Acclaimed Producer of The Invention of Lying, Sleepless in Seattle). The We Empower Together Award celebrates a woman in the media whose extraordinary accomplishments have paved the way for other women to succeed by changing the way the world sees women and women see themselves.

WET additionally honored Maria Zuckerman (Vice President HBO Films, Grey Gardens) with The Risk Taker award, recognizing a woman in the middle of her career who is producing groundbreaking female driven projects.

Proceeds from the Love Gala will go to support support WET's new film division, WET Films, created to develop and produce new material for film, and WET's award winning media literacy & leadership program for NYC teenage girls, WET's Risk Takers Series.
